"Classic" Pieces

Other Parlour Music played during the Ragtime Era

The following titles of so-called parlour music available at Ditty Box Enterprises were all stumbled across during researching ragtime music and its composers. In Victorian and Edwardian times, the heydays of home piano music, collections of light music to be found on the domestic piano or housed within its stool would generally contained one or more "classic" items amongst the sundry hits-of-the-day. Indeed many if not most of the ragtime composers were aware of them and even played them.

Some such as Julius Lenzberg with his Hungarian Rag (1913) - DBE 634 and Operatic Rag (1914) - DBE 636 or Frank Henri Klickmann with Paderewski Rag (1920) - DBE 222 were inspired by classic works to the extent of incorporating their themes into their own compositions. The items "on hold" generally be made available within 14 days at no extra cost - please enquire.
